Seriously Ill—Village Views and Varieties.

The Ladies' Charitable society of St.
Mary's church held their first whist of the season Tuesday evening in the church assembly room and report a most successful affair. There were twenty tables. Two prizes were offered, a gentleman's prize, a knife, and a lady's prize, a handsome pin tray. Miss Sadie Driscoll tied with Mrs. Lorena B. Carroll for the lady's prize, and Charles D. Yerrington tied with George W. Rouse for the gentleman's prize.
When a cut was taken, however, Mr.
Yerrington and Miss Driscoll were declared the winners. A delightful evening was spent by all.

The next whist of the society will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 12th, in the assembly rooms.

terized the wound and dressed it; and no serious after effects are expected.

Fellowship Meeting of Six Churches at Historic First Church—Inspiring Addresses—Items Noted About Town

Wednesday morning and afternoon a fellowship meeting of six neighboring churches was held at the First Congregational church, at which a large number were present. After singing, the reading of Scripture and prayer by the Rev. John Thompson of the West Town Street Methodist Episcopal church, the pastor, Rev. G. H.
Ewing, welcomed those present and presented the first speaker, Rev. H. A.
Beadle of Franklin. His subject was "Unalleged Christianity."

He said: Christianity has a wide sky line. We can do anything for our brother; the spirit of faith and the spirit of brotherhood are vital parts of the Christian church. We who are outside of the church, let us go to the hill tops and get the landscape view and see what the church is doing, what are its aims and results.

Pulpit Economics.

Rev. H. J. Wyckoff of Norwich spoke on Pulpit Economics. He said: What should be preached from the pulpit? "Preach the Word!" That would bring back some of the vagaries of the present day into line with the teaching of Paul and of Jesus. When Paul told Timothy what to preach he meant the inner life of Jesus. I should like to hear the pulpit emphasize doctrine—the laws of life—to enable a person to find himself once more in regard to God, sin and the future life.
There is no solid presentation of the doctrinal truth in the pulpit today.
This force is not a spent force. We need a presentation of the old faiths.
A social gospel must find its heart and its source in God. The preaching

NORWICH BOY PASTOR AT LOWELL

Rev. Frances Howard Rose Settled at Immanuel Baptist Church—Graduate of Free Academy.

Rev. Frances Howard Rose of this city is now located in Lowell as the pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church.
He supplied the pulpit six months before being called to the pastorate and

REV. FRANCIS H. ROSE.

is now doing a big work there.
F. H. Rose was born March 20, 1884, at Norwich, Conn., where he received his first schooling. In 1904 he graduated in the classical course at Norwich Free Academy, including a special work in the manual training course at the same school. In the fall of 1905 he entered Colby college, where he graduated in June of 1909 with a commencement part. He carried off the prize in senior English composition and oratory and received the degree of bachelor of arts. The past year was spent at Newton Theological institution. While schooling at Norwich Mr.

Rose carried through seven years' course at the Norwich Art school.

During the four years spent at Colby he preached at Jefferson, Me., for the Jefferson Third Baptist and Free Baptist churches and in his last year preached Sunday afternoons at the Jefferson Second Baptist church.

At Jefferson Mr. Rose won no little fame as a decorator of interior. At the renovation of the Third Baptist church of that town he beautified the walls with skillful paintings of appropriate scenes. In company with his brother Harold, he painted the Second Baptist church from steeple to cellar.

He went to Lowell ready to work and eager to help a needy people. Mr. Rose worked his way through both academy and college and went to Lowell with a great zeal and a great interest in the Christian work. He brought his brother Harold to his new field as a song-singer to aid his work. To him is also allotted a large class of boys, ages 12 to 15. A men's Bible class was organized some time ago by Mr. Rose which has since evolved into the Immanuel Men's Christian league, a very prominent factor in the life of the church.

At the time Mr. Rose commenced his campaign with the church affairs were at a low ebb and the joint efforts of pastor and people have already seen their fruits. Already 24 have joined this church and the spirit of revival is growing. Other names of candidates have been submitted and all things point to a large and prosperous work at Immanuel.
